Fourteen stimulating literary works that shine a new light on Singapore’s first foreign minister and one of its most eloquent and farsighted leaders—the late S. Rajaratnam. Celebrated as one of Singapore’s founding fathers, very little has been said of his literary prowess. The seven short stories, which he wrote in London in the 1940s, were previously published in various collections alongside some of the most distinguished writers in the world. Impressed by his talent, George Orwell, who at the time worked for the BBC Eastern Service, recruited Rajaratnam to contribute scripts for the network. Upon his return from London, Rajaratnam stopped writing fiction and took to journalism. Excelling in political commentary and satire, he also wrote a number of politically-charged radio scripts. This anthology collects a six-part series titled “A Nation in the Making” and another titled “Looking Forward”. All seven scripts were broadcast on Radio Malaya in 1957. The aim has thus been to give comprehensive coverage to forms a foreigner might run across in Indonesian readings, from this era or from the past, but excluding classical Malay literature, Much of the Indonesian written production (written and otherwise) contains slangy, colloquial, and regional forms, and we have not excluded such forms. On the other hand we have confined the listing of dialectical forms only to those likely to be widely known...The dictionary should also be useful to Indonesians who wish to learn English equivalents of Indonesian words, but it has not been developed primarily for that purpose, because many English words can only be defined by a sequence of Indonesian words." from Introduction. The DK Eyewitness Malaysia & Singapore Travel Guide is your indispensable guide to this beautiful part of the world. official language. Please note: This book is a bilingual picture book with a 1:1 translation created by human translators (see translator's credits for details). Community and Family Health Nursing - 1st Indonesian edition This collection book consists of twelve short stories by twelve Indonesian young writers. Unlike the usual publications of fiction book in Indonesia by Indonesian writers, this book was written originally in English. The reason behind this is simple; all of us, the writers and I as the editor of this book, want to offer this book to a wider readership. However, we also want Indonesian readers to be included in our reach. Therefore, this collection book of short stories is also accompanied with its Bahasa Indonesia version. The stories collected here comprise various themes and styles written brilliantly by each writer. For example, the stories titled “A disaster day”, “Walking in the wind”, “A glimmer of light”, and “Struggle, love, and dream” were written to express personal experiences. They express sadness and misery from the past but at same time they also show a glimpse of hope towards the future. In “Struggle, love, and dream”, the writer tells a story about a girl from East Java who struggles to have a better future despite difficulties she has. Monetary crisis that hit Indonesia in 1998 is used as a historical context of how the character gets her first difficulty in the story. In spite of many problems that the character has, at the end of the story, the writer gives a glimpse of brighter days for her main character. The stories in this collection are all different in theme and style but they all have one similarity. The similarity is all of them express personal experiences and thoughts. Therefore, all of the stories here are personal expression. I hope that you will enjoy reading all of the stories in this collection. Happy reading!

The book examines ideas and practices such as independent journalism, peace journalism, meta-journalism, virtual interactivity, talk-back radio and community radio, which have all been designed to renew audience interest in media and societal affairs. It pays special attention to radio programmes that enable hosts, experts, listeners and other participants to discuss and negotiate the very rules and boundaries of Indonesia’s newly acquired media freedom. The author argues that these contemporary programmes provide dialogic alternatives to the official New Order discourse dominated by monologism.
