Ollie's Lost Sep 18 2020 "My name is Oliver turner. One minute I had it all—the perfect job, the perfect fiancée, and the perfect life—and the next minute, I woke up in a desert with no money, no identity, and no clue as to how I got there." Oliver Turner is a twenty-six-year-old who is madly in love with his work, family, and fiancée. After a short while of making friends and taking on responsibilities at the job he had worked so hard to get, he finds himself on top of the world. Before he can get accustomed to his new life, everything gets taken from him in an instant. In the middle of a very intense meeting, Oliver shuts his eyes for a brief moment, and when he opens them, he finds himself in a strange wasteland with nothing but misery and bloodshed for company. Can Oliver find his way back home before he loses his sanity, or will all be lost?

The $100,000 Club Feb 21 2021 Now bestselling author D. A. Benton shows you how to break through your personal glass ceiling and earn $100,000 a year -- or more! Her can-do plan not only helps you change your whole approach to making money but, more important, helps you make new choices that lead to a happier, more successful life in every way.

Women's Roles in Sub-Saharan Africa Apr 13 2020 This exhaustive exploration of the sociocultural, political, and economic roles of African women through history demonstrates how African women have shaped—and continue to shape—their societies. Women play essential, critical roles in every society; African women south of the Sahara are certainly no different. Women's Roles in Sub-Saharan Africa adds significantly to our understanding of the ways in which women contribute to the fabric of human civilization. This book provides an in-depth exploration of African women's roles in society from precolonial periods to the contemporary era. Topical sections describe the roles that women play in family, courtship and marriage, religion, work, literature and arts, and government. Each of the six chapters has been structured to elucidate women's roles and functions in society as partners, as active participants, as defenders of their status and occupations, and as agents of change. Authors Nana Akua Amponsah and Toyin Falola present a thought-provoking work that looks at the complicated victimhood/powerful-female paradigm in women and gender studies in Africa, and challenge ideological interest in African historiography that privilege male representation.

A Winning Bench Press Routine Sep 11 2022 This routine alternates between 'heavy days' and 'light days,' which is a good strategy for keeping the muscles from getting accustomed to any one particular routine. Remember that muscle 'growth' is actually the result of the body responding to the 'trauma' of lifting weights. When we lift weights, the body's endocrine system signals the affected muscle fibers to get bigger and stronger so that they can withstand the trauma of the next workout.

Nothing Is Blue Nov 13 2022 It is the seventh century, a tumultuous time in India. Poised between the last of its empires and the beginning of western invasions, there is an ominous pause in the history of the subcontinent. It is also a time shrouded in mysteries and secrets. A few Buddhist monks have begun to dabble in tantric rituals. Elsewhere, a crucial astronomical discovery has been hushed up. And then follows the event after which there can be no turning back: a student monk from Nalanda - the great seat of ancient learning - stumbles on secrets better left hidden, and cannot be left to tell the tale. A vivid journey into the medieval world of new religions and changing sensibilities, Nothing Is Blue is an unforgettable tale about the cul-de-sacs of history, of pain and memory, of hope and fate.

The Radicality of Love Feb 04 2022 What would happen if we could stroll through the revolutionary history of the 20th century and, without any fear of the possible responses, ask the main protagonists – from Lenin to Che Guevara, from Alexandra Kollontai to Ulrike Meinhof – seemingly naïve questions about love? Although all important political and social changes of the 20th century included heated debates on the role of love, it seems that in the 21st century of new technologies of the self (Grindr, Tinder, online dating, etc.) we are faced with a hyperinflation of sex, not love. By going back to the sexual revolution of the October Revolution and its subsequent repression, to Che's dilemma between love and revolutionary commitment and to the period of '68 (from communes to terrorism) and its commodification in late capitalism, the Croatian philosopher Srećko Horvat gives a possible answer to the question of why it is that the most radical revolutionaries like Lenin or Che were scared of the radicality of love. What is so radical about a seemingly conservative notion of love and why is it anything but conservative? This short book is a modest contribution to the current upheavals around the world - from Tahrir to Taksim, from Occupy Wall Street to Hong Kong, from Athens to Sarajevo - in which the question of love is curiously, surprisingly, absent.

Why Didn't You Get Me Out? Jul 17 2020 American pilot Frank Anton was a prisoner of the Viet Cong in the jungles of Vietnam for five years--longer than any other P.O.W. who survived. The hope of rescue sustained him for much of that time. After the war, however, Anton learned that military intelligence had known where he was all along, but gave orders not to expedite his rescue. Now, after 20 years of silence about the matter, Anton has decided to tell his story. Photos.
