In every young black man's life, there is conversation or more likely a speech directed to him about the downside of being black in America and that there are two sets of uneven rules, applied unequally. One is that, if you are caught in the snare of the American justice system, as a victim or someone accused of a crime; the penalties will more likely be punitive than compassionate. The other is that the avenues to appeal or state your position, called due process, are most times more biased than the police. 28 ... It's just an illusion that something belongs to someone in this world. We are all given temporary use of things and even our own lives are temporary. Only the things we create belong to us. Our planet belongs to its creator. People didn't create it, The Universe did... What we call the Christianity is essentially the process of preparing to rapture. Prepare for Rapture is a book about true salvation, a way of life called holy or righteous will keep us in relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Today—bestselling authors of Stand Your Ground comes the explosive story of a liberal college under siege—and freedom under fire. Former Army Ranger Jake Rivers is not your typical Kelton College student. He is not spoiled, coddled, or ultra-lib like his classmates who sneer at the “soldier boy.” But regardless of his differences with the rest of the student body, he needs an education. And when terror strikes, the school needs Jake. Without warning, the sounds of gunfire plunge the campus into a battle zone. A violent gang of marauders invade the main hall, taking students hostage for ransom. As a veteran and patriot, Jake won’t give in to their demands. But to fight back, he needs to enlist his fellow classmates and school them in the not-so-liberal art of war. This time, the aggression isn’t “micro.” It’s life or death. And only the strong survive. When advertising legend Jim Riswold is stricken with leukemia and prostate cancer, he quits the business that made him famous to become a “fake artist,” creating a controversial body of work with a controversial cast of characters, from Hitler to Mao to Kim Jong-Il. It was a decision that would save his life. Advertising legend Jim Riswold is a Big F Deal. Ask him, he’ll tell you. But when Riswold is stricken with leukemia and prostate cancer (a two-fer!), the freewheeling adman quits making commercials, and starts making art. But not just any art—Hitler art. Mussolini art. Stalin-in-a-bathtub art. This is not a sad cancer story. This is a molotov cocktail of raunch and heart and 18-gauge biopsy guns. This is a taboo-busting laugh riot, a raspberry blown straight at dying-guy preciousness and monsters of all kinds—cancer and world-historical bad guys included. Be warned—contents of this book include: One profanity-spiked TEDx talk. Several very public, full-frontal dick picks. Two adorable children. Something called “Interferon Family Fun Night.” Jim Riswold leading a crowd of people in a rousing rendition of “Happy Birthday” to his oncologist. Relentlessly funny, and scorchingly subversive, this is a bruised and bruising memoir—it is also tubed, scarred, stapled, and irradiated. But here’s the secret: Jim Riswold, enfant terrible, the man Charles Barkley once called “a role model for morons,” is kind of a sweetheart. The wise-guy posturing is just a cover for his pulpy heart. Another secret: This book isn’t about Hitler. It’s about the beautiful, stupid, gross, foolish, and fantastic things we’re willing to do for love and family and not-dying. It’s about a guy who, with due respect to Lou Gehrig, considers himself the luckiest man on the face of the earth. Really, Jim Riswold owes cancer a thank-you. Thanks to cancer, his tombstone will no longer read: Here Lies That Guy Who Did That “Bo Knows” Commercial. Now, it will say Here Lies the Guy Who Put Cancer in Its Place—and Mussolini on a Tricycle. From the beginning, you will discover where one's soul simply returns to its original spiritual self, laid to rest in a dormant state within our Father's spiritual world since the beginning of mankind, simply in wait for Judgment Day. Where once no one was found worthy of eternal life with the father and the basis behind the creation of his only begotten son, Emanuel. For those waiting on what many believe to be that one clear sign, for many shall come in my name and shall deceive even the elect if possible, will find their neighbors themselves may very well fit the bill. For false prophets have been around since denominations themselves. I believe you will find where mankind not only helped in their creation but through their own blind ignorance continuously support the same which will lead them all to hell's fiery damnation. All will as well find that God does not lie, play games with lives, change with times simply because mankind would so will, nor as so science would have all believe, procrastinate. Does not the Father himself so state through scripture, "Will make short order of the earth," as we understand it to be? You will as well discover, all prayers are not heard. Those in particular with innocent blood on their hands will not be heard. There can be no innocents greater than those the unborn. You will as well find prayer without works, sincerity, and in more cases than not, repentance itself may very well be a requirement before one can be heard. Since Eve herself, women have played no greater role in the outcome of mankind than she has since World War Two. You will find in revelations where mankind will be tried and tested for ten days. Adam and Eve's lives themselves along with scripture dictates the time comparison given by the Father will give all knowledge and understanding concerning such. Even to the point of understanding, the first seven days as well the age of this world. Read how weather-related events bring about such worldwide disaster that purified water and food become more valuable than gold itself. With cannibalism becoming the norm in many areas of the world. With immorality running rampant throughout the Great Babylon, should it really come as a surprise who she really is? One who would make Sodom and Gomorrah look more like a godsend than evil. If the only knowledge one received from these readings is the fact that it is not Satan one need worry about but the heavenly Father himself. For only God has the ability to destroy body and soul, then my goal here has been accomplished. MAY GOD FORGIVE ALL. Amen. Excerpt from The Man-Traps of the City: A Young Man's Warning to Young Men The following words, spoken on some Sunday evenings past, were originally prepared, by personal exploration and investigation, for the young men of my own congregation. But the audiences who gathered to hear them have been so unexpectedly large, overflowing in each instance the possibilities of the building, that it has been deemed best to give these plain warnings the larger influence of this permanent home. They are published without change, just as they were delivered, and hence lack any studied care or revision. But they are sent forth with the prayer that God, for whose glory they were spoken, may bless them in saving some souls from the man-traps of sin.
