This edited volume advances the conceptual framework of the 'everyday urban' to unpack the ways in which processes of modernity in India shape young subjects and, in so doing, centers the analytical categories of childhood and youth. In rejecting simplistic binaries of agency, and teleological logics of development and modernity, the authors focus on the complex pathways of negotiation and conflict that mark the lives of young people across various historical and contemporary contexts in urban India. Chapters are organized across two key themes: Shaping Modern Subjects and Being Modern Subjects, while spanning multiple disciplines including anthropology, history, sociology, disability studies, and psychology. Together, the contributions aim to advance the field of childhood and youth studies in South Asia and beyond. For more than 40 years, Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide. Computerworld's award-winning Web site (Computerworld.com), twice-monthly publication, focused conference series and custom research form the hub of the world's largest global IT media network. Focusing on the practical side of document creation and publication, Perspectives on Electronic Publishing is a comprehensive look at the entire range of electronic publishing activities. This practical guide simplifies the confusing world of electronic publishing standards and demonstrates solutions to real-world problems. Following an informal, easy-to-understand introduction to fundamental concepts and technologies, this book goes one step further, with numerous illustrations and examples of the application of these concepts in an enlightening series of case studies. This indispensable book will help you sift through the confusing alphabet soup of standards, including SGML and ODA; avoid common pitfalls in graphics and document integration; analyze your electronic publishing requirements; understand the range and variety of electronic publishing systems; learn from the example of others through a variety of case studies; and take advantage of the variety of distribution methods available. The purpose of this Documentation and Analysis for Packaging (DAP) is to document that ice chests meet the intent of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) and the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) Code of Federal Regulations as strong, tight containers for the packaging of limited quantities for transport. This DAP also outlines the packaging method used to protect the sample bottles from breakage. Because the ice chests meet the DOT requirements, they can be used to ship LTD QTY on the Hanford Site. In response to the many major recent developments in the field, the authors have completely updated this modern classic, making this edition the most significant revision yet. Practitioners will find all the state-of-the-art guidance they need to make informed, effective clinical decisions. Former FDA commissioner David Kessler guides the reader through a legal thriller, telling the story of the FDA's fight with big tobacco. Renée Green: Pacing explores the artist's two-year engagement with the Carpenter Center for the Visual Arts at Harvard University, including her major exhibition Within Living Memory, and chronicles a series of Green's interlinked exhibitions and events that took place during that time period in Cambridge, US (Pacing); Toronto, Canada (Facing); Como, Italy (Tracing); Berlin, Germany (Placing); and Lisbon, Portugal (Spacing). Renée Green: Pacing puts these projects into dialog with extensive documentation of and critical responses to her exhibitions and public programs staged at the Carpenter Center between 2016 - 2018. In doing so, the publication focuses on questions of process across a network of histories and actions, dwelling in literature, poetry, mathematics, color, architecture, cinema, sound, voices, conversations, and written exchanges. Renée Green: Pacing features these works collected in Within Living Memory, including her new work Americas : Veritas (2018); commissioned by the Carpenter Center, Americas : Veritas is a short film inspired by materials found in Harvard libraries and archives, positioning Le Corbusier's Cambridge-situated Carpenter Center for the Visual Arts in dialogue with his Casa Curutchet, located in La Plata, Argentina, as the architect's only two built structures in the Americas. The book collects the scripts of Green's recent essay films ED/HF (2017), Walking in NYL (2016), and Begin Again, Begin Again (2015). Renée Green: Pacing advances new linkages between diverse international figures and sites, spanning Asia, Europe, North America, and South America, connecting Viennese émigré architect Rudolf M. Schindler, literary luminaries Gertrude Stein, Laura (Riding) Jackson, and Muriel Rukeyser, and polymaths and activists Albert Einstein, W. E. B. Du Bois, and Paul Robeson. In addition to a newly commissioned essay by art historian Gloria Sutton, and a new text by poet and scholar Fred Moten, Renée Green: Pacing brings together a series of never-before-published dialogs between the artist and a multidisciplinary group of leading practitioners including choreographer Yvonne Rainer, film and media scholar Nora Alter, and critic Mason Leaver-Yap. The publication will also collect recently published conversations with Nicholas Korody and William S. Smith, and an introduction by Carpenter Center director, Dan Byers. Here is the authoritative handbook on multimedia metadata and data management. In one volume, it gathers a wealth of information from the field's leading international experts in this emerging specialty. Multimedia data - text, image, voice, and video -- poses unique challenges to product developers and database professionals in midsized to giant organizations. They need to know how multimedia can be effectively stored, accessed, and integrated into applications. The key is "metadata", which acts as an umbrella for multimedia data and allows it to be modeled and managed. In this invaluable guide, well-known contributors from the U.S., Japan, and Europe examine the metadata concept, present relevant standards, and discuss its global use in video databases, speech documents, satellite and medical imaging, and other applications. This seventh edition includes new chapters and maintains popular features from previous editions such as self awareness prompts while adding research boxes and student worksheets at the end of each chapter. Cardiac Electrophysiology: From Cell to Bedside puts the latest knowledge in this subspecialty at your fingertips, giving you a well-rounded, expert grasp of every cardiac electrophysiology issue that affects your patient management. Teacher Education and Practice, a peer-refereed journal, is dedicated to the encouragement and the dissemination of research and scholarship related to professional education. The journal is concerned, in the broadest sense, with teacher preparation, practice and policy issues related to the teaching profession, as well as being concerned with learning in the school setting. The journal also serves as a forum for the exchange of diverse ideas and points of view within these purposes. As a forum, the journal offers a public space in which to critically examine current discourse and practice as well as engage in generative dialogue. Alternative forms of inquiry and representation are invited, and authors from a variety of backgrounds and diverse perspectives are encouraged to contribute. Teacher Education & Practice is published by Rowman & Littlefield. The Conference on "Prisons, Drugs and Society" was held in Bern from 20 to 22 September 200. The conference proceedings include 8 papers, presented to the conference by delegates from different countries, including Vivian Stern from the UK, and Alexander Gunchenko from the Ukraine. The report concludes with a consensus statement agreed by the conference, on principles, policy and practice. The purpose of this Documentation and Analysis for Packaging (DAP) is to certify that the packaging system currently in use for the 100 B and C Area large scale excavation and remediation campaign, meets the intent of U.S. Department of Transportation(DOT) requirements for bulk packaging (49 CFR 173.427) of radioactive materials, up to and including low specific activity (LSA) I quantities of Class 7 material.
