If God created all trees, animals and so on and they do fulfill their assignment, how much more we made in His image and after His likeness.

However, to fulfill this our God given purpose, we must have knowledge, revelation and leverage on three things; 1. Provision of Himself: The scripture says in Roms.8:32 that God who did not spare His son would freely give is all things. We also truly find our purpose in His son Jesus John 10:10. 2. Provision of Helpers of destiny: There is no self-made man on earth. We are all products of helps and support given to us by men. On our way to purpose fulfillment, God has put men every step of the way, we need to leverage on this. David and Jonathan, Paul and Ananias are some examples. 3. Provision of His precious promises: Every promise of God to us is in His word. We need to study and meditate on His word. Our purpose is found in His promises which are in the word 2Pet.1:3 We also have an eternal purpose which when we leave this earth we will be doing. Which is praising our Creator without fail. We truly find our fulfillment as we fulfill our God given purpose and assignment. Do you sense there is a greater purpose designed for your life and work? Good news! Each one of us is unique, but each one has a destiny of eternal happiness. We reach this destiny by freely embracing the will of the God who made us, as it is manifested to us in the circumstances of our daily life. This book provides the modern reader with guidance on how to reach intimacy with God and happiness with him forever by bringing one's life into conformity with his will. The book consults many sources--the Bible, the teachings of the Church, and the lives of the saints--and in all three the formula is the same: Obey God in all things. In discerning the will of God, there are many questions to consider: What is the relationship between human freedom and divine Providence? What good can result from sin and suffering? What is a vocation, and how does a person hear this calling from God? These questions are considered in chapters divided according to the verses of Psalm 119, which praise God's commands as expressions of his will. All the saints of the Church have this in common: They sought to discover the Creator's will for them and then tried to accomplish it to the best of their ability and according to the grace they received from God. The task of all of us is to do likewise. At this time, more than any other time in our lives, it is vitally important for us to drop anything that will not help us reach the fullness of our purpose. It may even mean dropping something that helped us get to where we are now. Even if it was valuable in getting us where we are, if it will not help us on the path ahead, we must be almost merciless in dropping it and moving forward. Otherwise it could weigh us down and hinder us from reaching our destiny as we press on to what lies ahead. Runners who are serious about winning a race will go to great lengths to improve their speed. They will often refuse to wear or carry anything that might increase wind resistance and slow them down, hindering their chances of winning. Like those athletes, we're in a race. We cannot afford to carry anything with us that is going to slow us down or hinder our chances of successfully finishing the race to fulfill our life purpose. There is an old proverb that says, "The good is the enemy of the best." That may be truer today than it has ever been. We really don't have time to waste on anything that is less than the very best use of our time and energy. We may have to forgo the enjoyment of many "good" things simply because our time is limited. Forget what lies behind. Press forward with a single focus on the narrow path ahead. Shed anything that hinders, weighs you down or distracts you from your highest purpose. Keep your eyes on the prize! Are you living your best life? Do you want to become 32% happier? This book will help you improve your happiness, reduce stress and help you be more successful at work and home. There are countless self-improvement books. Which one is right for you? For young people at a turning point—whether it's facing the end of high school, college, graduate school, or just a dead-end job—this is a familiar question. Maybe they have the degree they wanted, but don't know where to start in their job search. Maybe they're still in the process of choosing a major, and given the range—from "Biochemistry" to "Adventure Education"—are lost in the options. Maybe they're facing a mountain of debt, but don't want to get locked into a job they hate. While other books might give advice on writing resumes or preparing for interviews, they only go so far. Young people want more than just another job—they want a life, and a meaningful one at that. Enter The Big Picture. Created by the leading authority on self-help research, and reviewed by over six hundred college students, Dr. Christine B. Whelan's The Big Picture offers a guide to discover one's talents, dreams, and desires that can then lead a person to not only a fulfilling career, but a fulfilling life. It guides young people to take a step back and look at the "big picture" of who they are, what they want, and why they're here. Through quizzes and questionnaires which have been vetted by college students, Whelan guides the reader through "big picture" questions like, What are my talents—and how can I use those to help others and create meaning? How have my life experiences shaped who I am and what I can give? What do I value—and how can I be happy while being true to those values? Although there are endless books on finding a job, this is the first book that presents research-based and tested material to help young people answer the question, What am I going to do with my life? A great gift for a graduate or a guide for yourself, The Big Picture provides the resources
