Why is Learning Cursive: Handwriting Practice Workbook for Teens an important addition to your teen's curriculum? According to a 2013 New York Times article, "Learning to write in cursive is shown to improve brain development in the areas of thinking, language and working memory. Cursive handwriting stimulates brain synapses and synchronicity between the left and right hemispheres, something absent from printing and typing. As a result, the physical act of writing in cursive leads to increased comprehension and participation. The College Board found that students who wrote in cursive for the essay portion of the SAT scored slightly higher than those who printed." This handwriting book is perfect for teens improving cursive penmanship. Upper and lower-case letter combined practice Cursive handwriting practice for beginners Buy today and start your child on the path to learning to write in cursive Motor skills, brain development and finesse Print writing and cursive writing both require very different skill sets. Cursive uses the hand muscles in a different way. Moreover, it activates a different part of the brain which regular writing does not use. Analysis shows that learning to use cursive writing advances students' motor and visual skills. Exercising cursive handwriting augments and develops dexterity in our fingers and hands. These skills are the ones which are required of a dentist, artist, surgeon, and computer technicians. Cursive also promotes our hand-eye coordination and the linkage between our brain and hand. Even more remarkable is the fact that learning to use cursive writing productively affects mind development. Research also indicates that the kids who learn cursive in addition to manuscript writing have higher grades on both spelling/writing and reading exams, conceivably because the linked-up style of cursive writing compels writers to think of words as wholes rather than parts. Students with learning difficulties Students with learning difficulties e.g., dyslexia, may have a hard time with print writing since many of the letters are similar in appearance, especially b and d. On the other hand, cursive letters look very different from their print counterparts. This gives dyslexic students another choice, which can reduce their dyslexic impulses and make them more confident in their capabilities. Cognitive skills and natural flow The flow of cursive writing comes much more naturally to children as compared to print writing and engages greater cognitive skills. This cognitive development helps students reason, problem solve, conceptualize and make decisions as they get older. Cursive writing progresses fine motor skills such as coordination, development of muscles and hand-eye synchronization. Additionally, cursive writing's letter strokes aid in the eyes' left-to-right reading motion. Cursive is also productive for note-taking because a word in cursive is one entire block, instead of a stop-and-start series of strokes. This productive and efficient way of taking notes assists students in grasping information greater than typing. The phrase we all have been using, "Write it down or you'll forget it," is very true. Scientific studies on Neuropsychology suggest that the act of listening and handwriting links the verbal and spatial processing regions of the brain, strengthening memory. The overall excellence of syntax and writing is improved by this ability to reconstruct thought, ideas and lectures into written words, contrasted to those who type. This workbook, Cursive Handwriting Practice Workbook for Adults, offers adults (or teenagers) an age-appropriate opportunity to develop cursive handwriting skills. The phrases and sentences were specially selected with adults (or teens) in mind. Blank lines are narrower than standard children's practice worksheets. A relaxing theme may appeal to people of all ages. One chapter challenges you to rewrite printed sentences with cursive handwriting. This will test your mastery of the letters. The last chapter provides cursive handwriting prompts. A chart shows you how to write the cursive alphabet, and a couple of quick chapters at the beginning offer practice with letters and words. As a result, many kids are not very comfortable with cursive writing, and when they do write, it is almost impossible to read. The Learn How to Write in Cursive for Kids book has been created to close the gap and avoid turning cursive writing into a 'lost art'. Unlike many of the cursive writing books, which are tedious and boring, this one, with the short stories and cool cartoons, will eliminate some of the drudge of learning, and it is easy to monitor progress as it goes from individual letters to full sentences writing in cursive. This book has also plenty of space with 2 whole pages dedicated for practicing each letter, allowing kids to confidently develop their motor control while also improving their penmanship. This book is divided into the following 6 sections: Section 1: Tracing and writing lowercase and uppercase cursive letters, with detailed follow-the-arrow diagrams that demonstrate how to write the letters correctly. There are 2 pages for each letter. Section 2: Tracing and writing simple 3-letter words starting with a lowercase letter. Introducing the kids to the art of connecting lowercase cursive letters progressively. One whole page is dedicated to each letter. Section 3: Tracing and writing simple 4-letter words starting with an uppercase letter. Acquainting kids to connect uppercase to lowercase letters, while writing 1 character longer words than in previous section. One full page is dedicated to each letter. Section 4: Tracing and writing slightly advanced words, with a variable number of characters, familiarizing the kids with writing frequently used words. Section 5: Tracing and writing full sentences, in the form of cool short stories, adding a touch of fun and fantasy to the learning process. Section 6: Tracing and writing Days of the week and Months names. This section is kept as the last one to demonstrate the degree of progress that has been reached so far. Technical information: 8.5" x 11" - Large size that provides plenty of room for writing inside. 156 pages! - Much more than most of the workbooks available in the market, with similar price tag.
