The major goal of this research is to develop a widely accessible software system for analyzing and solving influence diagrams for the decision analysis community at the U.S. Air Force Institute of Technology. A software system for influence diagram analysis, PerForma, was developed. The system makes the influence diagram, a powerful modeling framework for both formulation and analysis, easily accessible. XLISP Version 1.7 was used to write the system. The Amiga, Atari, Macintosh, IBM PC and PC compatible computers have a fully operational system. The system is cost free and has no distribution restrictions expect for commercial use. The user's manual was written with a documented session of system use. A tutorial was written explaining influence diagram modeling and solution procedures. PerForma was validated through its use in decision analysis application theses. Keywords: Decision making, Decision theory, Mathematics, Operations research, Probability, Computer programs. The latest, greatest version of the classic Macintosh reference work--completely updated to cover the latest developments in the Mac world, including Power PC Macs, System 7.5, QuickTime 2.0, and the new Apple QuickTake 100 digital camera. An all-new CD-ROM features an interactive multimedia production and hundreds of megabytes of software. The joke here, of course, is this is not a "little" book. Rather, it is a fairly complete volume of knowledge for anyone wanting to know how to operate their Macintosh computer, especially anyone wanting to know tips and tricks for navigating the brand-spanking-new System 7.5.1 For application of the most current Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, there is but one standard: Maxwell's Handbook for AACR2. This practical and authoritative cataloging how-to, now in its Fourth Edition, has been completely revised inclusive of the 2003 update to AACR2. Designed to interpret and explain AACR2, Maxwell illustrates and applies the latest cataloging rules to the MARC record for every type of information format. Focusing on the concept of integrating resources, where relevant information may be available in different formats, the revised edition also addresses the Program for Cooperative Cataloging (PCC) and the cataloging needs of electronic books and digital reproductions of physical items such as books and maps. From books and pamphlets to sound recordings, music, manuscripts, maps, and more, this is the most comprehensive and straightforward guide to interpreting and applying standard cataloging rules. Learn: How and when to apply the rules What has changed in MARC21 coding How the rules help organize descriptive and bibliographic information What are uniform titles for unusual formats or materials How to select access points Extensive updates have resulted in all-new chapters covering cartographic materials, electronic resources, and continuing resources (formerly called serials). Illustrated with over 490 figures, showing actual MARC catalog records, this is the must-have AACR2 guide for catalogers, LIS students, and cataloging instructors. The fifth volume in the acclaimed series by performance art historian RoseLee Goldberg, Performa 13 features projects from more than 120 of the leading artists working in performance today, in collaboration with more than 100 curators and arts institutions--works that broke down the boundaries between visual art, music, dance, poetry, fashion, architecture, graphic design and the culinary arts. Participating Performa 13 artists included Pawel Althamer, Malik Gaines, Martha Graham, Rashid Johnson, Joan Jonas, Christopher Knowles, Ryan McNamara, Alexandre Singh, C. Spencer Yeh and many others who premiered major new works. This catalogue presents documentation of the festival in photographs, scripts and storyboards, along with contributions from curators, writers and the artists themselves, elaborating on the themes of the festival. Performa 13 stands not only as a beautiful document of a remarkable biennial, but also an invaluable reference guide for the performance art of our time.
