Travelling to Morocco and Ibiza, then back to the first spring of swinging London, Joe Mellen discovers the pleasures of hashish, is captivated by the visionary intensity of LSD and, after meeting the Dutch psychedelic guru Bart Huges, attempts the ultimate head trip, the bore hole. As well as a selection of unseen archive photographs, this edition includes a new postscript, essays, appendices and a 1967 interview with Bart Huges. RAMPAS HAS DECLARED . . . FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY RAMPA'S FASCINATING NARRATIVES HAVE BROUGHT GREAT JOY AND ENLIGHTENMENT TO MILLIONS WORLDWIDE Always at the center of controversy, T. Lobsang Rampa initially came to the attention of the public in the 1950's. THE THIRD EYE received wide acclaim by a public that was just beginning to awaken to diverse forms of spirituality. WHAT MADE RAMPA DIFFERENT from other "teachers," is he did not push any of his experiences down the throats of others, but in a simple, humble fashion, told of a more peaceful, serene life style which had come to him after years of hardship in his homeland. Tibet had been invaded by the Chinese communists, and many monks and adepts had to flee for their lives. But Rampa was able to survive due to his deep understanding and application of cosmic laws he had learned from several sources, including masters of the planet Venus, as well as beings from the Inner Earth. What makes Rampa's books so unique is that they are NOT transferred through channeling, but by way of self experience in the REAL WORLD. The many topics in his works has included: O The Death Process On The "Other Side." O The Earth's Far Past. O Contact With Space People. O The Human Aura. O Telepathy And Clairvoyance. O Astral Travel And Life Forms on Other Dimensions. O The Aksahic Records. RAMPA HAS LEFT THE PHYSICAL PLANE, yet his teachings continue to attract new followers every day. any do not realize that Rampa's books were written over several decades and that he has transcended from the physical plane. Unfortunately, even though he authored 30 books, the majority were never published in the U.S. Recently a manuscript was uncovered detailing Rampa's travels to Agharta, the capitol of the Inner Earth. Along with this length -- previously unpublished -- work the published has collected excerpts from his prior works that have not been issued before, making this a true collectors edition you will want to own. When it was suggested to the man who came to be known as T. Lobsang Rampa that he should write a book about his early life in Tibet he rejected the idea. He had no wish for the fame he knew it would bring, nor for the jealousy and the problems that jealousy would engender. But he needed money to do the research he had undertaken for the benefit of mankind, so eventually he agreed and wrote "The Third Eye," a classic that brought Buddhism to the Western world and shed light in countless dark corners the world over. Now, his only close friend and confidante throughout his last quarter century on Earth has given us an inside look at the life of struggle and suffering endured by this fascinating and remarkable man in his effort to help humanity. Her own life of dedication and devotion to Lobsang Rampa is interwoven with his, and this book should be read by his followers and detractors alike, as well as by those new to metaphysics. TUESDAY LOBSANG RAMPA RETURNS TO THE CAVE OF THE ANCIENTS Explore the depths of the unknown with the masterful Lama as he probes the history of the Earth -- Past, Present and Distant Future! Along with his trusted guide Rampa reenters the cave of the ancients and is taken on a tour of the Hall of Records. Here he is permitted to observe ancient events as well as view scenes from our planet's chaotic future soon to effect us all. Examine with the author: * The lives of the great Sages who live to be two or three hundred years old while maintaining a youthful appearance. * The existence of an uncharted orb that entered our atmosphere and almost destroyed the Earth thousands of years ago -- which may return in our lifetime. * The reality of lost worlds long before Atlantis and their inhabitants, many of them weird looking, "half human, half animal" hybrid-type creatures. * The evils of fossil fuel and how the use of petroleum can lead to the deaths of millions of innocent people. * How other civilizations from other planets migrated here in antiquity and how some of them have remained here "hidden from view." * The reality of parallel universe and its effects of what we think we know about earth's history. This was one of Rampa's last books and should not be missed. Add it to your library. Contains primary source material. THIS WORK IS PROOF THAT ANIMALS ARE NOT THE 'DUMB CREATURES' MANY PEOPLE MAKE THEM OUT TO BE! This book is NOT a work of fiction, but was transmitted to the author via mental telepathy from his pet cat -- yes! you read that correctly. "You've gone off your head Feef," said the Lama. "Who will believe YOU wrote a book?" He smiled down at me and rubbed under my chin in just the way I liked best before he left the room on some business. I sat and pondered. "Why should I NOT write a book? I thought. True, that I am a Cat, but not an ordinary cat. Oh dear! No! I am a Siamese Cat who has traveled far and seen much. "Seen? Well of course. I am quite blind now, and have to rely on the Lama to tell me of the present scene, but I have my memories! Of course, I am old, very old indeed, and not a little infirm, but is that not good reason why I should put on paper the events of my life, while I am able? Here, then, is my version of Living with the Lama, and the happiest days of my life; days of sunshine after a lifetime of shadows." Rampa describes his meetings with highly advanced extraterrestrial philosophers and scientists, and his feeling that these beings have been arriving on Earth for centuries for the general well-being of humankind. Some students of Rampa's writings may be shocked by these revelations. They may think that they transpired during out-of-body experiences, while others will go along with the noted mystic's claim that he took such a trip in his physical body. Behind the great Himalayan range, there lies all-seeing, all-knowing power and enlightenment. It is a way of life that may now be destroyed for all time, a spiritual culture with roots in the ancient world, the remote lamaseries of Tibet. It is here that T. Lobsang Rampa journeyed on the road to self-awareness, to these age-old repositories of wisdom -- where the Lamas learn the meaning of life and death, where the mysterious relationship between the mind and the brain is uncovered, where the secrets of hypnotism, telepathy, clairvoyance, and reincarnation are a part of daily life. Here too Rampa learned power -- but not for abuse or misuse. For the power of supreme enlightenment and universal knowledge is only offered to a chosen few, to those introduced to the strange and exciting world of . . . THE CAVE OF THE ANCIENTS This book is a guide to help you clear away the mystery of enlightenment that is very difficult to come by. Have you ever wondered what 'prana' is? Well Dr. Rampa will explain it in Supplement A which consists of valuable breathing exercises that will help clear your mind. He elucidates on what the Kundalini is, the subconscious mind, the devil, Zen, love and so much more; all in easy to understand plain English. Reading Dr. Rampa's books is the first step to understanding the sutras and treatises on enlightenment and well worth reading over and over again to finally 'see the light'. Lobsang Rampa was one of the mystic pioneers, bringing the 'unknown' to the Western worlds. Reading his adventures will enrich any person. There are those whose feet are firmly on The Path, who are known as "Old Souls" and who possess inner knowledge. They are aware of Truth, they have no need of a book such as this. But for the vast majority, who may indeed be true seekers, because of the way we are educated in the so-called civilized world, analysis, proof, the opinion of others is often necessary. I believe this book provides what they need. It has been diligently researched, and even if some of the reports printed here are, at the least, inaccurate, that is not the fault of the author. She has merely reproduced what has been said and written about a personage who defies our present stage of understanding. It is for the reader to form his or her own opinion. Excerpt: In January 1981 two prominent Tibetan identities died in exile. The lady known as "Amala", or "mother of the nation", died after a long illness in Dharamsala, India. She had given birth to sixteen children, including her most famous son His Holiness the Fourteenth Dalai Lama. Her two other sons had been recognised as "tulkus" or reincarnations of high lamas. She was beloved by the whole Tibetan nation in exile who mourned her passing. In an emergency ward of the Foothills hospital in Calgary the famous author and mystic known as Tuesday Lobsang Rampa also breathed his last after decades of ill health. His nineteen books about Tibet and the occult arts had sold in the millions and his admirers could be found on six continents. Despite his fame, however, there were no accolades or eulogies from the Tibetan community. He died unrecognised and unclaimed by the people of Tibet whom he had tried to help. Lobsang Rampa, who resembled an Englishman with a Devonshire accent, claimed that he was a Tibetan lama. His critics claimed that he was Cyril Hoskin, a Cornish plumber who had written "The Third Eye", a book about Tibet which was one of the greatest literary hoaxes of all time. Rampa insisted that he was a high Tibetan lama who had transmigrated into the willing body of Cyril Hoskin to perform his mission in life. His detailed recollections of Tibet and China, wealth of knowledge about the occult arts and disarming sincerity led many readers to believe in his authenticity. Rampa's critics were vociferous in their condemnation of the author. They included Tibetan and oriental scholars, the Press and the Tibetan community in exile, including some famous personalities. The author clung on tenaciously, writing nineteen books and continually proclaiming his innocence and authenticity. After his death his books were relegated to the New Age fringe while other authors shamelessly plagiarised his material. By the 1990s Lobsang Rampa occupied a full page of "The Guinness Book of Fakes, Frauds and Forgery`" and most of his books were out of print. The internet brought together many of Dr Rampa's loyal readers who had benefited from his teachings on the mystical arts and affirmations of the Afterlife. The new millennium has revealed Rampa's silent influence in such esoteric fields as UFOlogy, astral projection, aura photography, alternative history and the immortality of the human spirit. His positive image of Tibet has been instrumental in garnering support for this beleaguered land and introducing Buddhism to westerners. Ironically, "The Third Eye", written off by some as a hoax, remains the most popular book about Tibet ever written. Lobsang Rampa's personal motto was "I lit a candle". In commemoration of "The Third Eye's" fiftieth anniversary it is time to rekindle the flame of knowledge that Rampa first lit in 1955. Overall, Rampa's true identity is irrelevant as it is his knowledge that lives on. It is time to recognise Lobsang Rampa for what he was, a true mystic and trailblazer of the New Age. HIS CHARACTER

Lobsang Rampa was a truly unique individual with many extraordinary attributes. A man of such complexity cannot be summed up in a few pages or even a few volumes, so the following account is merely scratching the surface. In some ways he was a man of contradictions. He was a celibate monk who had a devoted wife, an intensely private man who wrote extensively about his life, a self professed Tibetan who had no contact with the Tibetan community and a Buddhist who practised many western occult arts. He often complained about people who sent him letters without return stamps, but he always answered them at great personal expense. Rampa's life was cursed by ill health. He suffered from coronary thrombosis, diabetes, arthritis and paraplegia. He was almost totally deaf and became proficient at lip reading. His spine and hands were damaged beyond repair as a result of years of torture in prison of war camps. Although he often came across as grumpy in his later years, he never lost his wicked sense of humour and keen wit. Rampa was a generous man who had little interest in material possessions. Over the years he gave a colour television away to a stranger, a wheelchair to an injured policeman and a house full of furniture to newlyweds. Friends and acquaintances often received expensive gifts which they were unable to return without insulting him. During his lifetime he personally answered many thousands of letters from his admirers, usually bearing the cost of postage himself. He had a sincere desire to help people and his advice was often sought by numerous famous identities whose anonymity he respected. THERE ARE MANY CHAPTERS IN EACH OF OUR LIVES Some of these chapters are good, many of them filled with love and joy . . . Others are inflicted with pain and sometimes deep suffering. We must experience all these Chapters of Life before we can move forward on the karmic wheel. . . In this volume we will learn about: A coming new world leader. . . The many mansions and dimensions of the universe. . . A world we all must visit . . . How to close and open a chapter in your life. . . Finding out if Astral is for YOU? . . . Its all here in the CHAPTERS OF LIFE. Rampa's teachings have circled the earth and are just as popular today as they were in decades past. His stories are of a spiritual nature, but they transcend all religion as what he has to say has great meaning for all of us. This is one of his most personal works -- a book that has been written JUST FOR YOU. So take it in hand and explore the world of the unknown -- and let all become know to you in both your heart and your mind! AGELESS WISDOM FROM THE LAMA Inside the cave, the young monk bowed respectfully. "I have come to you for instruction, Venerable One," he said to the old hermit in a low voice. In response, the hermit instructed the monk in true cosmic laws and in the universal order that governs nature and humankind. He told of deep, dark secrets which had been passed on to him by a mysterious "Higher Order" who have protected and guided humans since the dawn of creation. The old hermit told of a trip inside a "great metallic body" (a UFO perhaps) and of the visit to a vast cavern where he was surrounded by various beings: "Here were small men and women, seemingly perfect in every detail and of god-like mien, radiating an aura of purity and calm. Others were also man-like but with a curious, quite bird-like head complete with scales or feathers and with hands which, although human in shape, still had astounding scales and claws. Also there were the giants, immense creatures who loomed like statues, and over-shadowed their more diminutive companions." Though blind, the old hermit was handed an amazing "sight box" which enabled him to view scenes that had been hidden from humankind for centuries to protect them from unnecessary self-abuse and harm. UNKNOWN TO THE WESTERN WORLD. . . THE TIBETAN LAMA UNLEASHES HIS MYSTICAL POWERS. At the age of seven the Day of Prophecy arrived, and the court astrologers pronounced their findings. It was proclaimed that T. Lobsang Rampa was to enter the lamasery to be trained as a clairvoyant and as a healer. Many predictions were made about his life, including the fact that his work would be heralded around the world. While still very young the author's Third Eye was opened increasing his mystical powers, as well as his ability to view the human aura, and to read the thoughts of others. This volume -- part of an extensive series -- discusses karma, the other side of death, the silver cord, the seership, crystal power, ghosts as well as astral projection. This book is highly recommended for students walking the Spiritual Path in search of Enlightenment. "IN MY PREVIOUS WORKS I HAVE SAID IT IS ALWAYS BETTER TO LIGHT A CANDLE OR TWO THAN TO CURSE THE DARKNESS." DESPITE THE PAIN AND SUFFERING OF HIS ILLNESS RAMPA HAS TAKEN SPEED TO WRITE THIS INSPIRING TITLE THAT WILL FEED THE FLAMES OF YOUR DESTINY. As Dr. Lobsang Rampa lay, desperately ill, in a Canadian hospital, he looked up with pleasure to see his old friend and mentor, the Lama Mingyar Dondup, standing by his bedside. But it was with some dismay that he listened to the message that the Golden Figure had brought. Lobsang Rampa's work on this plane was not, as he thought, completed; he had to write another book, his eleventh, for there was still more of the mystic truth to be revealed to the world. Here then is that eleventh book. . . one of his most important Rampa has personally proclaimed! Feeding the Flame is mainly concerned with answering some of the multitude of questions which Dr. Rampa's readers have put to him over the years. It covers such subjects as: ++ Life after Death, ++ Suicide, ++ Meditation ++ Quija Boards, ++ Astral Travel In Other Dimensions ++ Psychic Healing In this volume Tuesday Lobsang Rampa will also voice his opinions quite strongly on life in the modern world as he has found it. Many controversial thoughts indeed! BONUS SECTION JUST ADDED TO THIS EDITION - ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION: EVERYTHING YOU WANT TO KNOW ABOUT T. LOBSANG RAMPA BUT HAD NO ONE TO ASK! Hosted by Jeffery Pritchett host of Church of Mabus radio on the internet, join our round table discussion on the life of this most humble of men. Tim Swartz and Tim Beckley have published and followed Ramps work for over a quarter of a century and share their thoughts with you for the first time. T. Lobsang Rampa was preordained to be a Tibetan priest, a sign from the stars that could not be ignored. When he left his wealthy home to enter the monastery, his heart was filled with trepidation, with only a slight knowledge of the rigorous spiritual training and physical ordeal that awaited him . . . This is his story, a hauntingly beautiful and deeply inspiring journey of awakening within Chakpori Lamasery, the temple of Tibetan medicine. It is a moving tale of passage through the mystic arts of astral projection, crystal gazing, aura deciphering, meditation, and more, a spiritual guide of enlightenment and discovery through the opening of the all-powerful, the all-knowing . . . " Fascinates the reader!" -- Miami Herald One of the most famous and controversial mystics of the 20th Century tells of his experiences, as a young boy, in the lamaseries of Tibet. Traveling with his guide, the Lama Mingyar Dondup, into the timeless world of the Caves of the Potala, the young disciple witnesses breathtaking visions and phenomena of the past and future. Most of the letters T. Lobsang Rampa receives are full of questions about all aspects of metaphysics - pendulums, dowsing, how to levitate, teleport, and "remote view," etc. In "Candlelight," Dr.

Rampa answers all of these questions and more, replying to queries about God, good versus evil, acupuncture, the media, and how to manage one's everyday affairs. This is Dr. Rampa's fourteenth book. Like its predecessors, "Candlelight" brings "illumination to some, hope to others" - in particular, to his many students and followers all over the world. "The Rampa Story" is an autobiographical book by Lobsang Rampa, author who wrote books with paranormal and occult themes. The book describes his adventures and experiences on his journey all over the world, providing colorful portrayals of mountains and nature. Lobsang Rampa shares his own personal experiences and his writing concerns the ramifications of the human personality and ego, a matter at which the people of the Far East excel. RAMPA LOVED HIS CATS MORE THAN ANYTHING. . .THEY WERE SO CLOSE HE SAID HE COULD COMMUNICATE WITH THEM! HERE IS THE STUNNING TRUTH ABOUT T. LOBSANG RAMPA - THE DECLARATION OF HIS WIFE, MAMA SAN RA'AB RAMPA "Lobsang Rampa knows the truth. He knows what he believes in and he is the person he claims to be. When the changeover occurred we had a very beautiful tabby cat with a silver coat and his attitude was surprising. Our tabby cat had extraordinary reactions towards the one I could call the New One. He showed an unusual respect towards him and anyone who saw him would have been most impressed by the wisdom of one of these supposedly 'dump animals.... "As far as I know there is only one way to evaluate the declarations of my husband. It consists of reading all his books from the beginning to end. That's where the truth is. I am a registered nurse and as such have a lot of experience concerning the observations of people, their attitudes, reactions or changes. . . Therefore, I declare that everything Rampa has said is true, as far as I know. One of the most unpleasant things is the fierce hatred felt by some of the press. Yet those who react so harshly have declared publicly that they have read none of the books. . . "When the THIRD EYE was published I made a declaration to the press. It was completely distorted. The press twisted my words and succeeded in making me claim that Rampa was in impostor. It is false, I have never thought nor claimed that he was an impostor. . .On the contrary. I assert, as I've always said that his books are true. . . I am my husband's wife, and when a woman is married to a man, she understands him, his moods, his peculiarities. If suddenly, everything changes in him, if it becomes evident to the woman that she lives with another man, a really different man, we have to accept the reality of the way it is. It can't be proved. . . I was in this situation. I saw a change occurring. I observed how the transmigration happened. However, I continue to live with him. But everything is different. We live rather like brother and sister, both making the best of the difficult situation we are in. But as I've witnessed all these things, as I've experienced it, there remains no doubt it is the truth. . ." Intro -- Contents -- Preface to the Twentieth Anniversary Edition -- Acknowledgments -- Introduction -- Chapter One: The Name -- Chapter Two: The Book -- Chapter Three: The Eye -- Chapter Four: The Spell -- Chapter Five: The Art -- Chapter Six: The Field -- Chapter Seven: The Prison -- Notes -- Index It was written in the stars that Lobsang Rampa would be a Tibetan Lama. This is his story of leaving a wealthy privileged world to enter the world of Tibetan spiritual training. Very heavy RR demand. ANSWERS ARE FINALLY GIVEN! THE TRUTH ABOUT RAMPA'S TRANSMIGRATION! Those that disbelieve who T. Lobsang Rampa says he is will never be convinced otherwise. Those that believe need to be offered nothing additional in the way of evidence. In this wonderfully fulfilling work, the great mystic reveals the truth about transmigration and how he went for being an ordinary plumber (or did he?) to one of the most remarkable men in the world of mysticism: Says T. Lobsang Rampa about this puzzling phenomenon: "Transmigration is stated to be the movement of one soul from one body into another body. There are many, many recorded instances in the world's history in which the soul of a person has departed from a body but before death occurred to that body another body was taken over. It is as simple as that." Get ready to be propelled in an out of this world experience. Here are little known facts about reincarnation, including who you were and who you might be in the future. Understanding is the key to expanding your consciousness and opening your heart and mind to the universe. Rampa will guide you. JUST FOLLOW THE FLICKER OF THE CANDLELIGHT!
